

Features of Classroom Websites that Support Inquiry-based Learning

Characteristic	Website Feature(s)	Website(s) URL
Student-generated question guide the process of inquiry.
Student learning goes beyond memorization of facts and moves toward understanding how to make sense of information.
Students learn how to learn as they develop information-processing and problem-solving skills.
Students construct knowledge through the processes of questioning and researching.
Learning processes and products reflect student interests and goals.
Students make use of resources that extend beyond the walls of classroom and the school.		